Dear Ms. Czazasty,

I'm writing to commend the Badlands National Park tweeter who likely put their job at risk to tweet out a few stats on climate change after the executive order for all Department of Interior bureaus to "immediately cease use of government Twitter accounts," was issued by President Donald Trump.

In a low time in American history, when facts are being disputed by the highest office in the land, the tweets from Badlands National Park were a welcome and lone beacon of hope. So thank you. Facts are real!

I made a donation to the NPS in honor of the Badlands Tweeter today.

Thank you,
